WARLIKE MOVESevers Diplomatic Negotiations
With Servia.

HOSTILITIES WILL FOLLOW

London Papers Urge British Foreign Minister to Attempt Mediation—Rumor Current That Battle Has Already Been Fought—Servia Raised Four Hundred Thousand Men During Recent Balkan War.

London, July 27.—The London morning papers urge Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, to mediate in the Austro-Servian situation, with a view to averting war, if that be possible, and, if not, to do his utmost to secure the influence of the powers to localize it.

Vienna, July 27.—The first encounter of the threatened war between Austria and Servia already has occurred, according to a rumor from Semlin that reached Vienna. The battle is said to have taken place near Semendria on the Danube, twenty-four miles southeast of Belgrade, but no details of the engagement were contained in the message.

The prospect of war is not regarded here as child's play. The Servians put 400,000 men into the field during the Balkan wars. Both officers and men are passionately patriotic.

It is expected that Servia will attempt to hold the front along the Danube and the Drina with only a weak force, while the greater part of the army will be concentrated in the central district, probably near Nish or Kragujevatz, and another strong force in Novipazar, which will be destined for offensive operations against Bosnia.

No declaration of war has been issued and it is believed that none will be, since Servia never subscribed to The Hague convention. The sending of his passports to the Servian minister, M. Jovanovich, by the Austrian foreign office, however, is deemed equivalent to declaration of war. This action was taken. M. Jovanovich will leave immediately. In his absence the Russian ambassador will take charge of Servian interests.

Patriotic Demonstrations.
There were patriotic demonstrations, although a heavy rain was falling. Great crowds gathered in front of the war office and cheered the officers who appeared. Processions with flags flying filled the streets.

A general mobilization in Montenegro is reported. Proclamations have been posted ordering partial mobilization.

Italy has informed Austria that in event of armed conflict with Servia she will adopt a friendly attitude in accordance with her relations with the triple alliance.

The Neue Freie Presse says the minister of finance will raise $65,000,000 for the government and adds that negotiations between the powers for the localization of the conflict will continue. In diplomatic circles there is a feeling of optimism that these negotiations will be successful and it was said by one diplomat that "France has no intention to expose herself too much on Servia's behalf."

The imperial decree issued gives the government enormous powers to ensure the secrecy of its measures. The authorities are entitled to open all letters. Only telegrams approved by the censor can be dispatched to any point. Newspapers publishing details of military preparations or movements may be suppressed.

All the railways are guarded by sentries with orders to use their arms on any person who fails to stop when commanded.

MAY DISRUPT CONFERENCE

Mexican Rebel Commander Says Amnesty Is Something for the Conqueror to Give the Conquered as an Act of Generosity and Not as a Condition of Surrender.

Washington, July 27.—Advices to the effect that General Carranza is not disposed to make a formal agreement granting amnesty in advance of his actual assumption of power in Mexico City reached Washington from the headquarters of the Constitutional chief.

This is not in line with what the American government has understood to be Carranza's position and it insisted upon may disrupt the proposed peace conference in Mexico. Provisional President Carranza has been urged by all elements to obtain an amnesty before yielding. Many an offer has been made to him for support in case he cannot obtain proper guarantees from the Constitutionalists for the lives and property of those who supported the Huerta government.

The United States has taken a definite position urging that an amnesty and guarantees be given. Informal assurances came recently from Carranza that with the exception of those who were directly responsible for the murder of Madero and Suarez he will not prosecute the supporters of the Huerta government.

Within the last two days, however, John R. Silliman, personal representative of President Wilson with Carranza, has reported his doubts on the subject. Carranza has told Silliman that amnesty is something for the conqueror to give the conquered as an act of generosity and not as a condition of surrender.

The Constitutional chief insists that the surrender of the Carranza government must be unconditional.

COURT DESERTS BELGRADE

Business Houses Close and Many Families Leave.

London, July 27.—A Semlin dispatch to a London news agency says that after the removal of the Servian court from Belgrade all business houses shut down and there was a regular exodus of families in overloaded conveyances. Belgrade presented a picture of the greatest confusion. A panic broke out among the inhabitants on rumors of the imminent entry of the Austrians and the bombardment of the town.

The Belgrade garrison completed the evacuation of Belgrade, only a force designed to cover its movements remaining behind. The Servian authorities are concentrating large bodies of troops in the neighborhood of Semendria.

GENERAL EUROPEAN WAR IS POSSIBLEAustria Breaks Off Relations
With Servia.

London, July 27.—Developments appear to furnish new proofs that Austria is determined to make war on Servia and the possibilities of a general European war seem greater than have ever confronted the present generation.

The Servian reply to the Austro-Hungarian ultimatum was an acceptance of almost all the imperious demands, except that Austrian officials shall participate in the investigation and fix the responsibility for the anti-Austrian propaganda. Servia proposed an appeal to the powers at The Hague for the settlement of that feature.

Notwithstanding this humiliating surrender, which was more than Europe expected of the proud little nation, the Austrian government gave the Servian minister his passports, which may be construed as a virtual declaration of war.

The suspension of all parliamentary and judicial institutions has been decreed in Austria and an ironclad censorship has drawn a cordon of secrecy around the country, so that the outside world is in complete ignorance of everything happening there, except what the government wants the world to know.

Even now the Austrian armies may be closing in upon Servia and launching a sudden blow.

The question as to whether Russia will take up arms to save her Slav protégé from a crushing blow is the crucial feature of the situation on which the peace of all Europe hinges.

Miss Janet Elliott, his daughter, is at the Elliott home in Back Bay with her grandmother. Speaking of her father's absence she said:

Washington, July 27.—Money from the federal treasury will be deposited in national banks throughout the country again this fall to facilitate the movement of crops and promote business generally. Secretary McAdoo announced that he will put out approximately $34,000,000 and that he stands ready to increase the amount to any extent necessary to meet the country's needs.

The secretary's estimate of what will be needed is based upon replies from 5,000 national banks to a recent treasury department circular asking whether any unusual demand for money is expected this year and for what purposes. Last year the department inaugurated the custom of distributing funds in the crop handling centers, depositing about $35,000,000 of the $50,000,000 Secretary McAdoo had decided to use for the purpose.

WON'T ADJOURN
UNTIL OCTOBERMajority Leader of House
Underwood So Indicates.

UNCERTAINTY IN SENATE.

Upper Body Made Up Mainly of Lawyers, and There Is Almost Continuous Wrangling—Looks as if Both Parties Will Have to Take Drastic Action to Maintain Quorum.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 27.—[Special.]—"I have made up my mind that we will be here until October, and so I have determined to make the best of it." The remark was made by Oscar W. Underwood, the floor leader of the house of representatives. Mr. Underwood also expressed the opinion that after the appropriation bills were out of the way and other pressing matters of legislation were concluded, such as the reclamation bill and the conservation measure, it will probably be the policy of the house to take a vacation similar to that of last summer. "We will keep enough men here to have more votes than the Republicans," said Mr. Underwood. "and will adjourn the house every day. I understand that Mr. Mann will not consent to an automatic arrangement for adjourning three days at a time and so we will adopt the same methods used last year and allow members to go home."

Uncertainty in the Senate.

This statement by Mr. Underwood is a reflex of the uncertainty that exists in the senate. Unfortunately for the program the president has outlined the senators seem unable to agree. Even his party associates cannot agree among themselves as to the kind of legislation which should be enacted. The senate is composed mostly of lawyers and the questions under discussion are largely of a legal nature. The consequence of such a condition is that there are now rambling debates upon the legal questions involved, and the lawyers, like the doctors, are unable to agree. The senate took the tariff bill very much as it was handed to it by the administration, but that body grew more independent in making currency bill and is still more independent in making trust bills. Unlike the house of representatives, the senators do not take what is given them and say nothing.

How to Fix It.

A suggestion, growing out of the long dispute over mileage for senators and representatives, which ought to settle the controversy if it is put into effect is that the house adopt a rate of 5 cents a mile for its own mileage and let the senate fix its mileage at 20 cents. Those who made this proposition believe that public opinion in time will force the senate to reduce its rate of mileage. The trouble with this suggestion is that there is quite a large majority of members of the house who want the mileage on the present basis of 20 cents a mile, but dare not vote for it on a record vote. These members are perfectly satisfied to have the senate hold out and finally "force" the house to accept the 20 cent rate.

The Quorum Question.

Both the senate and house have got to take some sort of drastic action in order to maintain a quorum. There are frequent roll calls to secure a quorum in both bodies. Senators and members will walk into the chambers while the roll call is in progress, answer to their names and walk right out again. Even when the presiding officers announce that a quorum is present, as disclosed by the roll call, it is not a real fact, as many men who answered to their names have gone away, simply content that they have been recorded as present. The only suggestion that I can think of to remedy this evil is to make the proceedings in the senate and house more interesting.

Again on the Rampage.

"Wild Jerry" Donovan, as his friends call him, has been on the rampage again and with points of order and points of no quorum, parliamentary inquiries, interruptions and general activity at all times has made trouble not only for Republican opponents, but for his Democratic associates who have been trying to get through a number of important bills. On one occasion Jerry interrupted the proceedings and declared that "there is no Republican from Ohio present."

The house would be as well off if there was no one from Connecticut present," retorted Jim Mann.

Worth Investigation.

One day during the many thunder showers that have occurred in the vicinity of Washington a big chestnut tree on the golf links near Washington where the president usually enjoys his afternoon game was struck by lightning. The president was not on the course at that time. However, the agricultural department considered the result of the lightning so peculiar that it decided to photograph the tree and make a study of it. It was one of the very largest of chestnut trees, yet the lightning stroke killed it completely. The experts in the department say that the situation is very peculiar, for it is seldom that a tree of any such size is ever killed by a lightning stroke. It seems that the very vitals of the tree, even down to the roots, were penetrated.

Three Men and One Woman
Killed in Dublin Riot.

OVER SIXTY PERSONS INJURED

Clash Between Troops and Nationalists Results From Landing Arms About Nine Miles From Dublin. Seven of the Wounded Are Not Expected to Recover.

Dublin, July 27.—Three men and one woman are dead and more than sixty persons are in the hospital wounded as the result of a battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers firing into a mob in the streets of Dublin. Seven of the wounded probably will die. Among them are three women and a boy of ten.

The affray was the result of a gun running exploit of the Nationalist volunteers, who were being aided by a mob composed largely of women and youths.

A consignment of rifles, said to number 10,000, was landed at Howth, nine miles from Dublin, from a private yacht. The Nationalist volunteers cut the wires and stopped travel on the Dublin roads and, according to reports, sent away most of the rifles, together with 70,000 rounds of ammunition, in motor cars.

A battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers was ordered to capture the arms when the authorities heard the volunteers were bringing them to the city. The soldiers encountered a detachment of volunteers at Clonwall bridge and an outbreak resulted, but there was no shooting. Soon a great crowd collected and followed the troops, jeering them and cheering for John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, and home rule. Finally the mob began throwing bottles and stones, injuring several soldiers.

To this attack the battalion replied with a scattering fusillade. In an instant the street was covered with wounded, while terrified men, women and children ran in all directions.

St. Jura's hospital is situated only 200 yards from the scene of the affray and the wounded were quickly taken there, where four of them died.

Soldiers and Police Seize Rifles.

The soldiers and police seized a hundred rifles from the volunteers. The arms were landed from a sailing vessel, the name of which had been painted over. A woman, or a man in woman's clothing, some persons say, commanded the yacht.

A thousand volunteers marched openly from Dublin to receive the arms, but declared they merely were making a practice march. Local police and coast guards tried to prevent the landing of the arms, but were driven off.

When the Dublin authorities learned of the landing they sent sixty police to seize the arms. They later were reinforced by 200 others under command of an assistant commissioner. The police were drawn on both sides of the road along which the volunteers were returning, with soldiers in the center of the road.

When the volunteers saw the mobilization most of them got away with their arms, scattering through the fields. The police and soldiers tried to disarm the remainder.

In the resulting affray several revolver shots were fired by volunteers and a corporal and a private were wounded. The volunteers also used their rifles as clubs.

The soldiers fired and used their bayonets freely, inflicting many cuts. Then they held a running fight with the volunteers and the rapidly growing mob through the streets to their barracks.

A number of policemen have been suspended for refusing to try to disarm the volunteers.

WON'T ADJOURN
UNTIL OCTOBERMajority Leader of House
Underwood So Indicates.

UNCERTAINTY IN SENATE.

Upper Body Made Up Mainly of Lawyers, and There Is Almost Continuous Wrangling—Looks as if Both Parties Will Have to Take Drastic Action to Maintain Quorum.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 27.—[Special.]—"I have made up my mind that we will be here until October, and so I have determined to make the best of it." The remark was made by Oscar W. Underwood, the floor leader of the house of representatives. Mr. Underwood also expressed the opinion that after the appropriation bills were out of the way and other pressing matters of legislation were concluded, such as the reclamation bill and the conservation measure, it will probably be the policy of the house to take a vacation similar to that of last summer. "We will keep enough men here to have more votes than the Republicans," said Mr. Underwood, "and will adjourn the house every day. I understand that Mr. Mann will not consent to an automatic arrangement for adjourning three days at a time and so we will adopt the same methods used last year and allow members to go home."

Uncertainty in the Senate.

This statement by Mr. Underwood is a reflex of the uncertainty that exists in the senate. Unfortunately for the program the president has outlined the senators seem unable to agree. Even his party associates cannot agree among themselves as to the kind of legislation which should be enacted. The senate is composed mostly of lawyers and the questions under discussion are largely of a legal nature. The consequence of such a condition is that there are now rambling debates upon the legal questions involved, and the lawyers, like the doctors, are unable to agree. The senate took the tariff bill very much as it was handed to it by the administration, but that body grew more independent in making the currency bill and is still more independent in making trust bills. Unlike the house of representatives, the senators do not take what is given them and say nothing.

How to Fix It.

A suggestion, growing out of the long dispute over mileage for senators and representatives, which ought to settle the controversy if it is put into effect is that the house adopt a rate of 5 cents a mile for its own mileage and let the senate fix its mileage at 20 cents. Those who made this proposition believe that public opinion in time will force the senate to reduce its rate of mileage. The trouble with this suggestion is that there is quite a large majority of members of the house who want the mileage on the present basis of 20 cents a mile, but dare not vote for it on a record vote. These members are perfectly satisfied to have the senate hold out and finally "force" the house to accept the 20 cent rate.

The Quorum Question.

Both the senate and house have got to take some sort of drastic action in order to maintain a quorum. There are frequent roll calls to secure a quorum in both bodies. Senators and members will walk into the chambers while the roll call is in progress, answer to their names and walk right out again. Even when the presiding officers announce that a quorum is present, as disclosed by the roll call, it is not a real fact, as many men who answered to their names have gone away, simply content that they have been recorded as present. The only suggestion that I can think of to remedy this evil is to make the proceedings in the senate and house more interesting.

Again on the Rampage.

"Wild Jerry" Donovan, as his friends call him, has been on the rampage again and with points of order and points of no quorum, parliamentary inquiries, interruptions and general activity at all times has made trouble not only for Republican opponents, but for his Democratic associates who have been trying to get through a number of important bills. On one occasion Jerry interrupted the proceedings and declared that "there is no Republican from Ohio present."

The house would be as well off if there was no one from Connecticut present," retorted Jim Mann.

One day during the many thunder showers that have occurred in the vicinity of Washington a big chestnut tree on the golf links near Washington where the president usually enjoys his afternoon game was struck by lightning. The president was not on the course at that time. However, the agricultural department considered the result of the lightning so peculiar that it decided to photograph the tree and make a study of it. It was one of the very largest of chestnut trees, yet the lightning stroke killed it completely. The experts in the department say that the situation is very peculiar, for it is seldom that a tree of any such size is ever killed by a lightning stroke. It seems that the very vitals of the tree, even down to the roots, were penetrated.

Three Men and One Woman
Killed in Dublin Riot.

OVER SIXTY PERSONS INJURED

Clash Between Troops and Nationalists Results From Landing Arms About Nine Miles From Dublin. Seven of the Wounded Are Not Expected to Recover.

Dublin, July 27.—Three men and one woman are dead and more than sixty persons are in the hospital wounded as the result of a battle of the King's Own Scottish Borderers firing into a mob in the streets of Dublin. Seven of the wounded probably will die. Among them are three women and a boy of ten.

The affray was the result of a gun running exploit of the Nationalist volunteers, who were being aided by a mob composed largely of women and youths.

A consignment of rifles, said to number 10,000, was landed at Howth, nine miles from Dublin, from a private yacht. The Nationalist volunteers cut the wires and stopped travel on the Dublin roads and, according to reports, sent away most of the rifles, together with 70,000 rounds of ammunition, in motor cars.

A battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers was ordered to capture the arms when the authorities heard the volunteers were bringing them to the city. The soldiers encountered a detachment of volunteers at Clonwell bridge and an outbreak resulted, but there was no shooting. Soon a great crowd collected and followed the troops, jeering them and cheering for John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, and home rule. Finally the mob began throwing bottles and stones, injuring several soldiers.

To this attack the battalion replied with a scattering fusillade. In an instant the street was covered with wounded, while terrified men, women and children ran in all directions.

St. Jura's hospital is situated only 200 yards from the scene of the affray and the wounded were quickly taken there, where four of them died.

Soldiers and Police Seize Rifles.

The soldiers and police seized a hundred rifles from the volunteers. The arms were landed from a sailing vessel, the name of which had been painted over. A woman, or a man in woman's clothing, some persons say, commanded the yacht.

A thousand volunteers marched openly from Dublin to receive the arms, but declared they merely were making a practice march. Local police and coast guards tried to prevent the landing of the arms, but were driven off.

When the Dublin authorities learned of the landing they sent sixty police to seize the arms. They later were reinforced by 200 others under command of an assistant commissioner. The police were drawn on both sides of the road along which the volunteers were returning, with soldiers in the center of the road.

When the volunteers saw the mobilization most of them got away with their arms, scattering through the fields. The police and soldiers tried to disarm the remainder.

In the resulting affray several revolver shots were fired by volunteers and a corporal and a private were wounded. The volunteers also used their rifles as clubs.

The soldiers fired and used their bayonets freely, inflicting many cuts. Then they held a running fight with the volunteers and the rapidly growing mob through the streets to their barracks.

A number of policemen have been suspended for refusing to try to disarm the volunteers.

S. L. Frazier, of the Verndale Bank
Ad, Apologizes for "White
Feather" Story

Diplomatic relations between Brainerd and Verndale, which had been strained almost to the breaking point by a Verndale bank baseball editorial entitled "The White Feather," written by the prolific pen of the Hon. S. L. Frazier, vice president of the First National bank of Verndale have now been resumed, the white dove of peace hovering over Brainerd and bearing an olive branch of large dimensions.

In a letter to J. A. Hoffbauer, Mr.
Frazier says: "Have read, with great satisfaction, your writup of Yours Truly in the Dispatch under date, the 24th instant.

"Speaking of 'vials of wrath' there is nothing to it as 'I am not mad, I am not mad.' In fact, was feeling particularly good natured when the typewriter got off that 'White Feather' business. Now do you know old man, I wouldn't hurt any one's feelings for the world, moon and little stars. It is all just having a bit of fun with you folks and if you think I ought to apologize, here goes on all fours, etc.

"My understanding of the game, in detail, may not be very clear but at that I think you will admit it is quite as much so as it is to the reporter who writes the baseball dope for the Brainerd Dispatch, but please forget it and let's be good friends as of yore.
You see I am in a very penitent mood and trust you will appreciate my efforts to appease the crowd.

"We are willing and anxious to pay for all the dignified publicity this 'Big, Little Bank' receives from the press and have concluded that the space you gave us and the good treatment accorded, is worth a fiver and am handing you our draft for that amount. If you are willing to accept this, when you get the Brainerd ball team together, give them a treat at our expense and with my regards and best wishes.

"If they will only come to Verndale for a return game, we promise them a good time, gentlemanly treatment and a sound thrashing.

Respectfully and Penitently Thine,
S. L. FRAZIER.

The letter was received late Saturday and preparations were immediately under way to convert Mr.
Frazier's apology and accompanying draft into an entertainment suitable for such an occasion as Mr. Frazier suggested.

On Sunday evening a dozen or more members of the Brainerd baseball team met at the home of J. A. Hoff-bauer and a buffet luncheon, cigars and other refreshments were enjoyed.
A toast was drunk to Mr. Frazier and his bank ads. On motion his "White Feather" editorial which roasted Manager D. A. Peterson and the Brainerd ball team was buried deep in the waters of oblivion. Mr.
Frazier was voted a good fellow and harmonious relations were again established between Verndale and Brainerd. A bunch of crepe was ordered sent Mr. Frazier because the little Ironton team nearly swamped
the husky Verndalers Sunday.

THE AMENDE HONORABLE

S. L. Frazier, of the Verndale Bank
Ad, Apologizes for "White
Feather" Story

Diplomatic relations between Brainerd and Verndale, which had been strained almost to the breaking point by a Verndale bank baseball editorial entitled "The White Feather," written by the prolific pen of the Hon. S. L. Frazier, vice president of the First National bank of Verndale have now been resumed, the white dove of peace hovering over Brainerd and bearing an olive branch of large dimensions.

In a letter to J. A. Hoffbauer, Mr. Frazier says: "Have read, with great satisfaction, your writup of Yours Truly in the Dispatch under date, the 24th instant.

"Speaking of 'vials of wrath' there is nothing to it as 'I am not mad, I am not mad.' In fact, was feeling particularly good natured when the typewriter got off that 'White Feather' business. Now do you know old man, I wouldn't hurt any one's feelings for the world, moon and little stars. It is all just having a bit of fun with you folks and if you think I ought to apologize, here goes on all fours, etc.

"My understanding of the game, in detail, may not be very clear but at that I think you will admit it is quite as much so as it is to the reporter who writes the baseball dope for the Brainerd Dispatch, but please forget it and let's be good friends as of yore. You see I am in a very penitent mood and trust you will appreciate my efforts to appease the crowd.

"We are willing and anxious to pay for all the dignified publicity this 'Big, Little Bank' receives from the press and have concluded that the space you gave us and the good treatment accorded, is worth a fiver and am handing you our draft for that amount. If you are willing to accept this, when you get the Brainerd ball team together, give them a treat at our expense and with my regards and best wishes.

"If they will only come to Verndale for a return game, we promise them a good time, gentlemanly treatment and a sound thrashing.

Respectfully and Penitently Thine,
S. L. FRAZIER.

The letter was received late Saturday and preparations were immediately under way to convert Mr. Frazier's apology and accompanying draft into an entertainment suitable for such an occasion as Mr. Frazier suggested.

On Sunday evening a dozen or more members of the Brainerd baseball team met at the home of J. A. Hoffbauer and a buffet luncheon, cigars and other refreshments were enjoyed.

A toast was drunk to Mr. Frazier and his bank ads. On motion his "White Feather" editorial which roasted Manager D. A. Peterson and the Brainerd ball team was buried deep in the waters of oblivion. Mr. Frazier was voted a good fellow and harmonious relations were again established between Verndale and Brainerd. A bunch of crepe was ordered sent Mr. Frazier because the little Ironton team nearly swamped the husky Verndalers Sunday.

SHOPS GO ON FULL TIME TODAY

Whole Locomotive Side of Northern Pacific Railway Shops Now on 9 Hours Six Days

BALANCE OF SHOPS 10 HOURS

Will Make a Big Increase in the Monthly Payrolls Because of the Added Hours

Commencing this Monday, July 27, the Northern Pacific railway shops at Brainerd go on full time and the added hours will accordingly make a big increase in wages at the monthly paydays.

The entire locomotive side of the shops and this includes the machinists, blacksmiths, boiler-makers, etc., goes on full schedule, being 9 hours six days a week. The balance of the shops, car side, etc., is on 10 hours a day, six days a week.

Conditions in all industrial lines look good and encouraging in Brainerd. The city is doing an immense amount of street work, recently completing the cement paving of a section of Kingwood street on the north side and doing a remarkably good job there under the supervision of City Engineer C. D. Peacock. All is in readiness to commence cement paving on a section of Maple street on the south side. There has also been ordered in additional paving and the laying of many cement sidewalks.

Excavation for the new $75,000 city hall will soon be under way. The architects have about completed the plans and specifications. The street committee, backed by the council and city officers, early laid in a complete supply of good gravel for street, sidewalk and city hall foundation and other work.

The hay crop of Crow Wing county is going to be immense. Hay is being cut in sections never before reached by a mower, the hot weather of recent weeks having dried out the meadows and made possible a footing for the heaviest teams.

Recent rains are doing much to relieve the tension regarding potatoes and other small crops which have been languishing on account of lack of moisture.

Mining conditions on the Cuyuna iron range have improved wonderfully in the last few days and enough development work has been mapped out and new work projected to create a real furor in mining circles and cause attention in the range in circles hitherto blind to the opportunities for investment and money-making.

Building in Brainerd is being carried on in different sections and there is a healthy demand for labor. No man need go idle who cares to work. Comparing conditions with other cities of a like size, Brainerd need not suffer by such comparison.

Brainerd citizens have the happy faculty of creating work, as witness the fill operations, the city hall project, the street and sidewalk work, etc.

Within a few weeks the Brainerd Dispatch will be printed on the finest press to be found between the Twin Cities and Winnipeg, Duluth and Fargo. The paper will be printed with comparatively lightning-like rapidity and the day of the complaining subscriber who says he has not received his paper by 6 o'clock in the evening, will happily be over and that sad state of affairs will remain but a memory. The new press will print, fold and deliver the whole big daily edition in one-fourth the time of the old press, a complete description of which will be given in detail in due time.

The prosperity, the progressiveness of any community is reflected in its newspapers and it finds its full evidence in the contemplated improvements projected at the Brainerd Dispatch.

FRAZEE LICKED TO A FRAZZLE

Brainerd Team Slow in Starting, Gives Frazee an Awful Wallop Near the Finish

LOCAL NINE HAS THE PUNCH

Game Winds up 8 to 4 in Favor of Brainerd—Victor Pitches a Good Game

Notwithstanding Frazee amassed a three run lead in the first two innings of Sunday's game with Brainerd at the Koering grounds, Brainerd played horse with the sawmill town nine, hammered Russell out of the box scoring 9 hits and 6 runs off him and played his successor, Sletten, to a frazzle, getting 2 more runs from him, the final figures of the game reading Brainerd 8, Frazee 4.

Al Victor pitched for Brainerd and allowed but 6 hits. It was a most creditable mound performance, Victor striking out 7 and being particularly good in the pinches.

Fred Cook pounded out a home run which Baer tried to spear, missed and the big right fielder then crawled through the barbed wire fence at the north end of the grounds searching for the ball. He recovered it and tried to throw to first base and missed that station by several hundred feet. All this time the flying feet of our friend Cook were not busy. He rounded second easily, took a glance at the ball as it hopped over the barbed wire fence and then took a 9 foot stride and tore down the cinder path. Third base was a cloud of dust as he shot past and he tore into the home plate yards ahead of the ball.

Brainerd commenced its play in a very desultory manner. There was a wild rainbow throw from third base to first which Cook could not have reached with an extension ladder. Victor made a wild pitch and Erickson later remarked that the outer garden felt nervous too.

Brainerd had read that wonderful writeup of the Frazee management where they claimed the championship of three counties and were about ready to annex Crow Wing and several other counties. "Our team," said the Frazee press committee reports, "as a whole is batting 286, with five men batting over the 300 mark. Our pitchers, Russell and Sletten are the cream of pitchers," etc., etc.

Frazee amassed two runs in the first inning and one in the second and their chests expanded in an alarming manner.

"Nothing to this Brainerd team at all," said one of the fielders as he walked past Capt. Tom Templeton.

Brainerd rolled up three ciphers in three innings. But in the fourth they struck their stride. They measured up Pitcher Russell. He had been hit freely all this time, but the heavy blows landed in fielders' mitts or were scooped up by in the infield. Erickson got a hit. So did Larson, Sheffo and Bush. Three runs rolled in and the score was tied. The grand stand heaved with excitement. The bleachers did not have a spasm as only one fan was sitting in the same, but he acted in a perfectly scandalous manner.

Frazee added a lone score in the sixth and that closed its run getting abilities. In Brainerd's half of the sixth Frazee stock tumbled down in the dust. Cook walked out his home run. Bush and Benda scored. Pitcher Russell, of Frazee, was derided off the mound and planted in right field. Frazee's umpire made an awful decision and the crowd yelled, "Give us a new umpire."

In the eighth Russell made a spear at Sheffo's long drive and missed the ball and Sheffo scored. Templeton made a drive of the ball, reached second. Sheffo led off from third and the Frazee team tried to run him down. Sheffo raced back and forth and then when a high throw was made to the catcher, Jumbo missing the ball, Sheffo raced home and right back of him came Templeton. That finished the fireworks.

The box score is:

Mrs. Dean was a prominent member of the First Congregational church and with her husband was one of the pioneer settlers of Brainerd. No funeral announcement has been made at this date.

Hertell-Zakariassen

A pretty church wedding, elegant in all its appointments, was solemnized at the Seventh Street Norwegian Lutheran church on Saturday evening, when Miss Sophie Mathilda Zakariassen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Zakariassen, was married to Mr. John R. Hertell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hertell, Rev. M. L. Hostager officiating and using the short ring service of the church.

The altar was beautifully decorated with potted plants, flowers and ferns. Slowly walking down the church aisle to the strains of the wedding march played by the organist, Miss Christine Engen, came the two ushers, Miss Hannah Bye and Miss Amy Gilbertson, dressed in white, followed by the little ring bearer, Glenn Fraser and the flower girl, little Bernice Ilse, the two bridesmaids, Miss Amy Zakariassen and Miss Jennie Zakariassen, sisters of the bride, the two best men, Louis Johnson and Andrew Olson, the bridegroom and his mother. At the altar they were met by the bride, who walked down the aisle on the arm of her father.

The bride was attired in white marquisette trimmed with silk moire. A white chiffon bridal cap enhanced her beauty. She carried a large bouquet of white roses.

Miss Amy Zakariassen, a bridesmaid, was dressed in white satin trimmed with shadow lace. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Miss Jennie Zakariassen, the second bridesmaid, was gowned in embroidered organdie and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

The ring bearer was Glenn Fraser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Fraser, of Virginia, Minn., and wore a white sailor suit. He carried the ring on a gold tray.

Fully three hundred invited guests witnessed the ceremony. Following the pleasing ceremony there was a reception in the parlors of the church and in the receiving line were the bridal couple, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Zakariassen and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hertell. The parlors were decorated in pink and green. The orchestra of the church played pleasing selections. Arthur C. Larson was the usher there.

A luncheon was served, the young ladies assisting in the serving being Miss Esther Zakariassen, Miss Clara Zakariassen, Miss Laura Benson, Miss Agnes Rosenberg, Miss Della Engbreton, Miss Ella Newgard, Miss Edna Thompson.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. August Ilse and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Fraser, of Virginia, Minn., Miss Hodd of Chisholm.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Zakariassen, who attended the schools of Brainerd and grew to womanhood here. The bridegroom is a machinist at the Northern Pacific railway shops, who in large part learned his trade here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hertell left on a wedding trip for St. Paul and Minneapolis and will also visit in Wisconsin. On their return they will reside a month or more in Duluth and then make their home in Brainerd.

They received many handsome and costly presents, which attested the high regard which all their friends have for the young couple. The Dispatch joins their many friends in wishing them continued happiness and prosperity.

A Masterful Character Study

"The Hopes of Blind Alley"

Bison 3 Reel Drama. Posed by Murdock MacQuarrie.

It is a masterpiece, and the main character, enacted by Murdock MacQuarrie, is a monumental bit of work. The really great men of the stage have been character actors. The same standard will apply largely to the men of the screen in the future. And just so, Murdock MacQuarrie, for his supreme interpretation in this play, will be remembered as "a master." SHOPS GO ON FULL TIME TODAY

Whole Locomotive Side of Northern Pacific Railway Shops Now on 9 Hours Six Days

BALANCE OF SHOPS 10 HOURS

Will Make a Big Increase in the Monthly Payrolls Because of the Added Hours

Commencing this Monday, July 27, the Northern Pacific railway shops at Brainerd go on full time and the added hours will accordingly make a big increase in wages at the monthly paydays.

The entire locomotive side of the shops and this includes the machinists, blacksmiths, boiler-makers, etc., goes on full schedule, being 9 hours six days a week. The balance of the shops, car side, etc., is on 10 hours a day, six days a week.

Conditions in all industrial lines look good and encouraging in Brainerd. The city is doing an immense amount of street work, recently completing the cement paving of a section of Kingwood street on the north side and doing a remarkably good job there under the supervision of City Engineer C. D. Peacock. All is in readiness to commence cement paving on a section of Maple street on the south side. There has also been ordered in additional paving and the laying of many cement sidewalks.

Excavation for the new $75,000 city hall will soon be under way. The architects have about completed the plans and specifications. The street committee, backed by the council and city officers, early laid in a complete supply of good gravel for street, sidewalk and city hall foundation and other work.

The hay crop of Crow Wing county is going to be immense. Hay is being cut in sections never before reached by a mower, the hot weather of recent weeks having dried out the meadows and made possible a footing for the heaviest teams.

Recent rains are doing much to relieve the tension regarding potatoes and other small crops which have been languishing on account of lack of moisture.

Mining conditions on the Cuyuna iron range have improved wonderfully in the last few days and enough development work has been mapped out and new work projected to create a real future in mining circles and cause attention in the range in circles hitherto blind to the opportunities for investment and money-making.

Building in Brainerd is being carried on in different sections and there is a healthy demand for labor. No man need go idle who cares to work. Comparing conditions with other cities of a like size, Brainerd need not suffer by such comparison.

Brainerd citizens have the happy faculty of creating work, as witness the fill operations, the city hall project, the street and sidewalk work, etc.

Within a few weeks the Brainerd Dispatch will be printed on the finest press to be found between the Twin Cities and Winnipeg, Duluth and Fargo. The paper will be printed with comparatively lightning-like rapidity and the day of the complaining subscriber who says he has not received his paper by 6 o'clock in the evening, will happily be over and that sad state of affairs will remain but a memory. The new press will print, fold and deliver the whole big daily edition in one-fourth the time of the old press, a complete description of which will be given in detail in due time.

The prosperity, the progressiveness of any community is reflected in its newspapers and it finds its full evidence in the contemplated improvements projected at the Brainerd Dispatch.

FRAZEE LICKED TO A FRAZZLE

Brainerd Team Slow in Starting, Gives Frazee an Awful Wallop Near the Finish

LOCAL NINE HAS THE PUNCH

Game Winds up 8 to 4 in Favor of Brainerd—Victor Pitches a Good Game

Notwithstanding Frazee amassed a three run lead in the first two innings of Sunday's game with Brainerd at the Koering grounds, Brainerd played horse with the sawmill town nine, hammered Russell out of the box scoring 9 hits and 6 runs off him and played his successor, Sletten, to a frazzle, getting 2 more runs from him, the final figures of the game reading Brainerd 8, Frazee 4.

Al Victor pitched for Brainerd and allowed but 6 hits. It was a most creditable mound performance, Victor striking out 7 and being particularly good in the pinches.

Fred Cook pounded out a home run which Baer tried to spear, missed and the big right fielder then crawled through the barb wire fence at the north end of the grounds searching for the ball. He recovered it and tried to throw to first base and missed that station by several hundred feet. All this time the flying feet of our friend Cook were not busy. He rounded second easily, took a glance at the ball as it hopped over the barb wire fence and then took a 9 foot stride and tore down the cinder path. Third base was a cloud of dust as he shot past and he tore into the home plate yards ahead of the ball.

Brainerd commenced its play in a very desultory manner. There was a wild rainbow throw from third base to first which Cook could not have reached with an extension ladder. Victor made a wild pitch and Erickson later remarked that the outer garden felt nervous too.

Brainerd had read that wonderful writup of the Frazee management where they claimed the championship of three counties and were about ready to annex Crow Wing and several other counties. "Our team," said the Frazee press committee reports, "as a whole is batting 286, with five men batting over the 300 mark. Our pitchers, Russell and Sletten are the cream of pitchers," etc., etc.

Frazee amassed two runs in the first inning and one in the second and their chests expanded in an alarming manner.

"Nothing to this Brainerd team at all," said one of the fielders as he walked past Capt. Tom Templeton.

Brainerd rolled up three ciphers in three innings. But in the fourth they struck their stride. They measured up Pitcher Russell. He had been hit freely all this time, but the heavy blows landed in fielders' mitts were scooped up by in the infield. Erickson got a hit. So did Larson, Sheffo and Bush. Three runs rolled in and the score was tied. The grand stand heaved with excitement. The bleachers did not have a spasm as only one fan was sitting in the same, but he acted in a perfectly scandalous manner.

Frazee added a lone score in the sixth and that closed its run getting abilities. In Brainerd's half of the sixth Frazee stock tumbled down in the dust. Cook walked out his home run. Eush and Benda scored. Pitcher Russell, of Frazee, was derrick off the mound and planted in right field. Frazee's umpire made an awful decision and the crowd yelled, "Give us a new umpire."

In the eighth Russell made a spear at Sheffo's long drive and missed the ball and Sheffo scored. Templeton made a drive of the ball, reached second. Sheffo led off from third and the Frazee team tried to run him down. Sheffo raced back and forth and when a high throw was made to the catcher, Jumbo missing the ball, Sheffo raced home and right back of him came Templeton. That finished the fireworks.

The box score is:

Hartell-Zakariassen

A pretty church wedding, elegant in all its appointments, was solemnized at the Seventh Street Norwegian Lutheran church on Saturday evening, when Miss Sophie Mathilda Zakariassen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Zakariassen, was married to Mr. John R. Hartell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hartell, Rev. M. L. Hostager officiating and using the short ring service of the church.

Miss Amy Zakariassen, a bridesmaid, was dressed in white satin trimmed with shadow lace. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartell left on a wedding trip for St. Paul and Minneapolis and will also visit in Wisconsin. On their return they will reside a month or more in Duluth and then make their home in Brainerd.

They received many handsome and costly presents, which attested the high regard which all their friends have for the young couple. The Dispatch joins their many friends in wishing them continued happiness and prosperity.

"BRAINERD BULLET" HELD OFF ENEMY

Leslie Bush Checks Cleveland Until Athletics Get in Their Final Punch

11 INNING GAME DESCRIBED

Naps Amassed Run in Fifth Inning Through No Fault of Bush, Oldring Muffing Fly

One of the best descriptions of the celebrated 11 inning game which Bush pitched against the Cleveland team, the Athletics winning 2 to 1, is given by "Jim Nasium" a picturesque baseball writer of the Philadelphia Inquirer, a copy of the paper being given the Dispatch by D. A. Peterson.

A double header was played that day and Jim alludes to both games in his opening story. Mr. Nasium says:

The opening fust was a contest in elusive hurling between "Bullet Joe" Bush and "Bill" Mitchell, which never terminated until two men were out in the last half of the eleventh inning, the Mackmen then driving over a tally that busted a 1 to 1 deadlock and gave them the margin in a 2 to 1 finish. In the final encounter Mr. McGillicuddy's hirelings obtained the margin in a 7 to 6 finish by hitching together a succession of clouts that amassed a cluster of five tallies in the fifth paragraph, the visitors having a 4 to 2 bulge up to that period.

At that, however, quite a few Mackmen "went on strikes". We don't know whether this was in compliance with Fultz's order or not, but they did it. In the opening conflict of the afternoon "Bill" Mitchell, using his left arm exclusively for the purpose, set a season's record by fanning twelve of the Mackmen in the first eight innings, coming within three whiffs of equaling the big league record set by Rube Waddell when he struck out fifteen in a nine inning game. Mitchell's total for the eleven rounds was thirteen strikeouts. "Stuffy" McNis was the only Mackman to escape going the strikeout route at the hands of Mitchell, while the Nap southpaw got Oldring, Collins, Baker, Barry and Bush each twice on three strikes. The reader gifted with the average amount of perspicacity will be able to gather from this just how futile were the Mackians' efforts against the pitching of Mitchell, yet they won. They won because Bush was out there showing just as invulnerable a front as Mitchell, and the "Brainerd Bullet" held the enemy off until the Mackmen could marshal their punch, which they finally did by clustering three of their six safe blows in the eleventh round for the winning tally.

Jim Nasium then goes more deeply into the details of the 11 inning game which Bush pitched and gives in part this account of the fust, as he calls it:

There is no getting away from the fact that a ball club shows its class in beating a pitcher that it can't hit. The real aggregations of class in this national frolic of our are the ones of whom you hear it said "they were lucky to win". The gang that can marshal its strength in one winning wallop when an opening is offered for the same, is a much more efficient crew than the crowd that fritters away its fire in sporadic splutters distributed all through a battle and then is shy with the punch when the big chance pops up.

In spite of the fact that Bill Mitchell held the Mackmen to three safe blows and set a season's record by striking out twelve inside the regulation nine inning period and was in addition supported almost faultlessly by his associates in the enterprise, he lost his ball game not because the Mackmen were "lucky to win," but because they staged a more effective ball game and opposed Mitchell with a pitcher who pitched even a better game than Mitchell did and deserved to win.

While Bush's string of strikeouts was not nearly so large as Mitchell's and the safe blows amassed off him in the first nine innings of the fust presented a more bulky array the "Brainerd Bullet" kept the plate absolutely clear of tallies throughout the entire eleven innings of the fust insofar as his pitching was concerned, the one run scored against him coming over on a miff of an easy fly that should have made the third out in the inning, while the run scored against the pitching of Mitchell that kept him from winning in the ninth, resulted from his pitching discrepancies alone and the winning tally in the eleventh was thumped out of his hide by clean hitting.

And any time a ball club beats a pitcher who holds them to three safe hits in nine innings and fans twelve, and does it on a day when that pitcher is receiving the faultless support of his comrades, you've simply got to slip it to that ball club. They've got to have something out there in the fust besides a horseshoe or the hind leg of a graveyard rabbit.

HOW TO TEST YOUR EYES

A SIMPLE TEST FOR NORMAL EYESIGHT.

An eye test that costs but five cents and is worth the price aside from the value of the test is a moving picture show. If you can sit through an average program without your eyes aching or feeling dry and tired and without feeling an inclination to open and close them frequently, and if an hour later, or the next morning, your eyes feel perfectly smooth and easy, there is nothing much the matter with them. If, however, after such a program your vision is dim, your eyes feel dry or irritated or burn or itch or ache or feel overworked, try this prescription:

Optona 5 Grains (1 tablet).

Water 2 ounces.

Dissolve the tablet in the 2 ounces of water and use as an eye wash from two to four times a day. This application relieves the tired feeling, seems to lessen the stress or strain and makes your eyes feel smooth and fine. It is a boon after an evening at the moving pictures or after a hard day's work where you have used the eyes incessantly. Irritation, inflammation and many minor eye troubles are greatly benefited and sometimes wholly cured by the use of this prescription. If you wear glasses, try it. You may, to your own surprise, find that you do not need them. Glasses bought at cheap stores without scientific adjustment to the eyes, or glasses worn too long without readjustment, are oftentimes not only absolutely unnecessary, but positively injurious. The use of this prescription may give you a favorable opportunity to judge whether or not you need glasses. It is a simple home remedy that has been used by hundreds of thousands, and among its users many regard it as an indispensable part of their daily toilet.

"BRAINERD BULLET" HELD OFF ENEMY

Leslie Bush Checks Cleveland Until Athletics Get in Their Final
Punch

11 INNING GAME DESCRIBED

Naps Amassed Run in Fifth Inning
Through No Fault of Bush,
Olding Muffing Fly

One of the best descriptions of the celebrated 11 inning game which Bush pitched against the Cleveland team, the Athletics winning 2 to 1, is given by "Jim Nasium" a picturesque baseball writer of the Philadelphia Inquirer, a copy of the paper being given the Dispatch by D. A. Peterson.

A double header was played that day and Jim alludes to both games in his opening story. Mr. Nasium says:

The opening fust was a contest in elusive hurling between "Bullet Joe" Bush and "Bill" Mitchell, which never terminated until two men were out in the last half of the eleventh inning, the Mackmen then driving over a tally that busted a 1 to 1 deadlock and gave them the margin in a 2 to 1 finish. In the final encounter Mr. McGillicuddy's hirelings obtained the margin in a 7 to 6 finish by hitching together a succession of clouts that amassed a cluster of five tallies in the fifth paragraph, the visitors having a 4 to 2 bulge up to that period.

At that, however, quite a few Mackmen "went on strikes". We don't know whether this was in compliance with Fultz's order or not,

but they did it. In the opening conflict of the afternoon "Bill" Mitchell, using his left arm exclusively for the purpose, set a season's record by fanning twelve of the Mackmen in the first eight innings, coming within three whiffs of equalling the big league record set by Rube Waddell when he struck out fifteen in a nine inning game. Mitchell's total for the eleven rounds was thirteen strikeouts. "Stuffy" McNamara was the only Mackman to escape going the strikeout route at the hands of Mitchell, while the Nap southpaw got Olding, Collins, Baker, Barry and Bush each twice on three strikes. The reader gifted with the average amount of perspicacity will be able to gather from this just how futile were the Mackmen's efforts against the pitching of Mitchell, yet they won. They won because Bush was out there showing just as invulnerable a front as Mitchell, and the "Brainerd Bullet" held the enemy off until the Mackmen could marshal their punch, which they finally did by clustering three of their six safe blows in the eleventh round for the winning tally.

Jim Nasium then goes more deeply into the details of the 11 inning game which Bush pitched and gives in part this account of the fust, as he calls it:

There is no getting away from the fact that a ball club shows its class in beating a pitcher that it can't hit. The real aggregations of class in this national frolic of our are the ones of whom you hear it said "they were lucky to win." The gang that can marshal its strength in one winning wallop when an opening is offered for the same, is a much more efficient crew than the crowd that fritters away its fire in sporadic splutters distributed all through a battle and then is shy with the punch when the big chance pops up.

In spite of the fact that Bill Mitchell held the Mackmen to three safe blows and set a season's record by striking out twelve inside the regulation nine inning period and was in addition supported almost faultlessly by his associates in the enterprise, he lost his ball game not because the Mackmen were "lucky to win," but because they staged a more effective ball game and opposed Mitchell with a pitcher who pitched even a better game than Mitchell did and deserved to win.

While Bush's string of strikeouts was not nearly so large as Mitchell's and the safe blows amassed off him in the first nine innings of the fust presented a more bulky array the "Brainerd Bullet" kept the plate absolutely clear of tallies throughout the entire eleven innings of the fust insofar as his pitching was concerned, the one run scored against him coming over on a miff of an easy fly that should have made the third out in the inning, while the run scored against the pitching of Mitchell that kept him from winning in the ninth, resulted from his pitching discrepancies alone and the winning tally in the eleventh was thumped out of his hide by clean hitting.

And any time a ball club beats a pitcher who holds them to three safe hits in nine innings and fans twelve, and does it on a day when that pitcher is receiving the faultless support of his comrades, you've simply got to slip it to that ball club. They've got to have something out there in the fust besides a horseshoe or the hind leg of a graveyard rabbit.
